

Your corporate story needs to be told.

Visionalist Entertainment Productions will tell your corporate story in a very unique way. Our multi-award winning team, including producer-director Keith Famie, have garnered eight Emmy Awards and numerous nominations for their human interest films. Now, let us tell your corporate story.

Keith's style is purposeful, dramatic, and when appropriate, emotional as he crafts his films. Whether it's a full-scale production like his Emmy nominated "Detroit: Our Greatest Generation" or his most current project, "Our Vietnam Generation" or something on a more intimate scale, your project will receive the same level of attention and care. Visionalist Entertainment will capture unique footage to tell your story. Visionalist also owns a diverse library of stock footage that has been shot all over the globe and is available to further enhance your film.

Your corporate story will become a valuable asset in many ways:

- An invaluable sales and marketing tool for promoting your company
- A genuine point of pride
- An impressive way to recruit new employees
- A great morale raising and team building project
